

2023 Admission Guide for KLEC

(Korean Language Education Center)

admission supported by Global Engagement Center

I. Introduction of Hallym University

Hallym University was founded in 1982, located in Chuncheon city(III). Hallym has appointed distinguished professors and researchers according to its early slogan “small but great” and constantly fosters talented and well-trained students. Today Hallym aims to leap forward into a “global and advanced” university under the new frame of “student-centered education”. Hallym keeps innovating its education system, such as mandatory double majors, introduction of convergence majors, and change of affiliation. Thus, Hallym tries to expand students’ learning options in the era of the 4th industrial revolution and prepares for the new 100 years ahead.

IV. Introduction of KLEC

Hallym's KLEC was established in August 2004. As a result of the steady development of the program over 10 years, in 2013, the Korean government recognized its excellence, and could start running the GKS(Global Korea Scholarship). Some companies (ex. ChungKun, construction company of China) and foreign national agencies (ex. Saudi Arabia's governmental scholarship program) have entrusted Korean language courses to the KLEC.

Furthermore, Hallym is operating the Korean Language Proficiency Test (TOPIK) administered by the national institute of international education of Korea, as well as KLAT certified by the ministry of culture, sports and tourism of Korea. This is the proof that Hallym university is recongnized for its expertise as the Korean language education institution.

Since 2010, the Korean government announced that TOPIK level 3 is required for foreign applicants to enter 4-year universities in Korea, and Hallym's KLEC has built a good teaching system to boast an excellent pass rate. The fact that students can take the TOPIK in the classroom where they were studying is also a point of pride.

KLEC actively supports many diverse Korean language programs necessary for advanced levels, in addition to the regular curriculum consisting of 200 hours per term.
